BRITISH WAR WITH JAPAN

HIT NEW SNAFFLE ARRESTS

Whether the Back Bay society women are implicated in new smuggling revelations made to the Federal authorities, which may result in the bringing of some of the best known women in Boston into the United States Court, it became known today that five women, who are accused of buying goods which they knew to be smuggled goods, have been named by the government inspectors in confidential manner by two prominent Back Bay dreamers.

As a result of the new developments in the case, it was announced today that it will be necessary for the Federal Grand Jury to reopen its investigation of the Boston Custom House fraud case. The Grand Jury has already indicted four persons. The new evidence is regarded by the authorities as likely to lead to a number of arrests—all of Boston women.

Mediates Gay Story. Gen. Chandler, special treasury agent in Boston, was informed by one of the Back Bay meddlers that they had some "valuable information" for him, and to-day.

At least one of the meddlers is said to have told him she knows of the purchase of goods and of their purchase by wealthy Back Bay women. These meddlers are said to have been frightened at the frequent failed references to them made in the newspaper reports of the smuggling frauds. Mrs. Chandler, who is charged with the investigation, gave Mr. Chandler and Chief White of Washington word to New York, together and made an investigation.

According to statements made today, Boston and New York detectives have been smuggling women's dresses for years and have been selling them to wealthy women who are charged with having been fully aware of the goods were brought into the country. It is said that under the new law these women are charged as guilty as the actual smugglers.

Involved Rich Woman. It is expected many of these women will be summoned before the Grand Jury to tell what they know. It was recalled today that on the night of the arrest of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas I. Shaw of Somerville, accused of smuggling, the person they caught over the telephone was a leading society woman of the Back Bay. This woman was asked to furnish the list. She made various excuses, finally pleading that her lawyer was out of town and she could not do so.

LITTLE BOY HURT UNDER TEAM, DIES. Five-year-old Taddeo Costa, son of Mr. and Mrs. Liberto Costa of No. 156 Liberty street, South Quincy, was hurt under a team in front of his home and died half an hour after the accident in his mother's arms. The only wound was a scratch on the forehead. The team was owned by E. J. Costa & Son, South Quincy, and driven by Fred Caney.

BRIDE TAKES POISON IN QUARREL. Mrs. Margaret M. Brown, 30 years old, wife of Charles Bentley, a machanic's helper, and a bride of a few months, is on the dangerous list at Cambridge City Hospital. Her striking point, at her home, No. 227 Third street, Dow Cambridge after a quarrel with her husband.

Boston Parcel Post Delivery Cost but Cent and a Half

If costs the government but a fraction over 1 1/2 cents to deliver the average parcel post package in Boston, according to figures just compiled by an account of the Parcel Post Department, the six last days, April 11 to 16, inclusive, 120,000 parcel post packages were delivered to Boston addresses, costing total but 625 cents delivered in bulk. These automatic deliveries cost $20.08, or an average of 1 1/2 cents per package. These figures compare favorably with the cost of 2 1/2 cents per package for the total, or 53,347, at an extra cost for this work of $2,070.04, making the average delivery cost by parcel post in Boston 2 1/2 cents per package. The bulk of the parcel post mail was delivered by ordinary carrier at the additional cost of 1 cent. Delivery costs on parcel post mail in Boston are higher than the average for the city's largest cities of the country.

REVERE COLLECTOR ON STAND

The Suffolk County special Grand Jury today gave its verdict into the alleged false entries on the assessors' books of the town of Revere which led to the Revere tax scandal.

Arthur F. Vandegriff, who charged that the assessors of Revere were engaged in a conspiracy to defraud the town of Revere, was today on the stand to give evidence. The Revere assessors were then in the witness box and the name of a real property owner substituted.

Among the other witnesses who took the stand today were Charles T. Smith, a Revere assessor, who is supposed to have attempted to serve a summons on the Revere assessor and to have retained the summons unserved.

Miss Ellen Manderson told Mrs. Charles T. Smith the two clerks in the assessor's office, Miss D. Fenn, the tax collector, who left after May 11, Mr. Gladys H. Hamilton, who left after May 11, the false entries, and William E. Hinton, the Revere assessor who examined the books for Revere assessor.

The Grand Jury especially anxious to learn the identity of one John McLenon, supposed to have lived at No. 24 Madison street, Revere. He is supposed to have paid $200 on $10,000 worth of personal property in the year 1910.

Mrs. Ida W. McLenon, with whom Charles Samuel A. Sogno of the Revere town, is expected to be an important witness. The records show that Mrs. McLenon of No. 188 Mountain avenue paid taxes in 1910 on $17,000 worth of property.

The entry of her name on the assessors' books follows directly after the entry against the mysterious McLenon. The Grand Jury is expected, will try to learn if the identity of these entries is merely accidental.

The investigation is proceeding to establish the facts of the case and the following was the method by which it is alleged the town has been defrauded.

Revere estate would be properly assessed, for $200, as an example, the record being sent through the proper hands, for verification and returned to the assessor. Then the assessor would be given the list of a Revere estate has been assessed in the books and a personal property assessment for $450 entered against it.

A bill on this assessment would be issued, but in this returned unsatisfied, because the person named in it could not be found. When the bill had been charged off as unsatisfactory the books would show the bill actually paid on that assessment and the $450 fairly assessed and returned.

By this process it is sought to saddle the town with a large bill for taxes on approximately $20,000 of property.

A report from the Grand Jury is expected on May 18. May 18, the assessment record would be changed, say to $20, or some comparatively small amount, the bill levied on the changed assessment and in due time paid.

To cover the difference between the true assessment of $200 and the false assessment of $20 it is charged that the town would be defrauded.

LONDON VIEW OF CRISIS SERIOUS

LONDON, May 17.—"Should war break out the sympathies of Australia, New Zealand and Western Canada would be violently on the side of the United States," says the Pall Mall Gazette today in discussing the California alien land ownership controversy.

The newspaper considers that it would be a grave mistake to underestimate the chances of a conflict between the United States and Japan, saying:

The opinion that the Japanese will never go to war in defense of their rights is, therefore, in our view, a dangerous generalization which leads nations astray in the "hank of the pit."

There are, in the opinion of the Pall Mall Gazette, several reasons why Japan may be desirous of inflicting the loss at the present moment. The most obvious of these is the pending opening of the Panama Canal, while a more remote one is connected with the condition of her internal politics. The article continues:

The point at issue, the extension of the Japanese permanent settlement, touches the British Empire very nearly.

FRANK CHANCE HONORED BY CHICAGO FANS

CHICAGO, May 17.—Today is known as "Frank Chance Day" in Chicago in honor of the President of the Cubs, who is making his first visit to Chicago as leader of the New York American team. The festivities will start with an automobile parade under the direction of the Chicago Motor Club.

Over 1,000 motor cars will be in line when the parade leaves Grant Park for the White Sox grounds at 1 o'clock. The parade will be headed by a motorcycle squad, followed by a band of sixty players and then a squad of mounted police. Following them will be the twenty-five touring cars, in which Manager Chance and the members of the committee on arrangements will ride.

The remainder of the procession is made up of private touring cars carrying local fans and admirers of the President. The parade will arrive at the White Sox grounds at 2 o'clock. The White Sox will then play the Cubs.

These quarters commenced with the band will furnish music at the ball park, before the opening of the game. Heavy rain is predicted for the afternoon.

Mike Gibbons Easy Winner in Battle with McCarron

NEW YORK, May 17.—Mike Gibbons of St. Paul bested Jack McCarron of the Garden A. C. last night. Mike showed all his fancy hooks, cross punches and uppercuts until he had planted his glove all over Jack from his waistline to his eyes.

Mike hit McCarron at least 300 times, but Jack was in no serious danger of losing to the man and the second round as it had started with both men on their feet. McCarron weighed 154½ pounds and Gibbons four pounds less.

Tom Gibbons of St. Paul did everything in the line of punching young Mike. Gibbons of New York scored knocking him out. Gibbons won the popular decision by a wide margin.

Columbia Eight Is Picked to Win Big Triangular Race

PHILADELPHIA, N. J., May 17.—The tripartite crews representing Princeton, Annapolis and Columbia, which will take part in a triangular regatta on Lake Carnegie this afternoon are in the best of condition for the big event.

None of the coxswains would venture any prediction concerning the probable outcome of the race.

Coxswain Glendon reported that there was a chance that he would have to do with the services of Columbia, who has been rowing at No. 3 in the Navy test. He has developed an excellent team, and if he cannot complete Glendon will get it back in a substitute.

Although few are making predictions on the race, Columbia is a slight favorite with the Tigres, who are offering 2 to 1 on the outcome, but are finding it from him in getting their bets covered.

Daysey Mayme and Her Folks

By FRANCES L. GARSIDE

FRANKER JOHN APPLETON has an affectionate disposition. His less her mouth is full of plot or halpin, he never leaves the house without kissing his wife goodby.

On rare occasions he has given her money as he was leaving, and when he has electricity to accept it, she has forgotten to kiss him he has been grievously pained. He has never ascertained that feeling of momentary reprieve which comes to collected husbands on such occasions.

He was in a tender mood the other evening, and sought to put him around his wife's waist. Alas for the ignorance of men and the tyranny of fashion! He couldn't find it!

He stepped back and looked at her in a puzzled way. Then he followed the line laid out by the dressmaker and she his arm gently around under his arm-pits.

The next evening, still tender and loving, this being the springtime of the year, he again put his arm under his wife's armpits, but her waist was not there.

He scratched his head in a puzzled fashion and felt a momentary rebuff. But the lady is not of the kind that brooks discouragement, and, after a moment's survey of her form, he got down on the floor and put his arm around her ankle, the dressmaker having located her waist there in the dress she was then wearing.

The following evening Franker John looked before he attempted to embrace, and found her waist was not at her ankles! It had been moved up to her knees!

It was then that he was overcome with a sense of the helplessness of man when opposed to the tyranny of fashion, and he bowed his head in anguish and cried aloud.

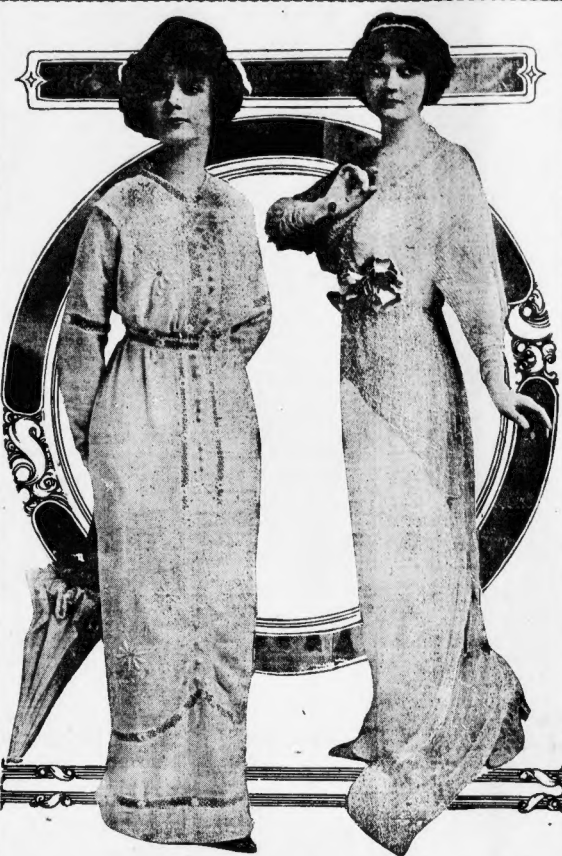

"It used to be so simple a matter," he cried, beating his hands on his breast, "for a man to put his arms around the waist of the woman he loved, but alas, it is a simple matter no longer!"

"It has become a movable sacrament of love!"

JEWELS and sequins are coming into their own again. This graceful evening gown in the right hand picture with its jeweled overdress produces the slender silhouette so much in vogue.

The foundation is of soft sueded crepe, the opalescent overdress is sewn on durable net.

In midsummer the shops have sales of net robes and tunics at prices far lower than the midseason terms. A small dress pattern of pale pink or blue or creamy crepe charmeuse and a dainty tunic will prepare you for an evening gown next season that will look very chic and elegant and cost very little.

Cool and dainty is other frock for midsummer wear. A soft crepe that bounces easily and does not crush is the most practical material in which to develop it.

Almost any woman can carry out the embroidered design of marguerites with outline sketch scrolls, "all-over" dots and crystals.

The lace insets of inch wide Irish may be dispensed with in favor of a cheaper lace—Matters for instance. But the five tiny draping tucks with ball buttons of Irish lace at their centers are a very important feature on making this model slightly different.

The button "moff" is carried out on blouse and upper skirt front too.

Advice to the Lovelorn

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

YOU ARE TOO YOUNG

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: I am a young man eighteen years of age, and am desperately in love with a girl twenty-one years of age. She has the most beautiful eyes and hair, and rosy red lips, and a smile that can't be beat. I don't know whether she loves me or not; I have asked her yet, but she won't tell me. I think she likes me, for one of my friends told me that she speaks well of me. JACOB.

I will tell you how to handle, for the reason that you are too young. The girl is eleven years your senior, and when you are old enough to love with reason you will look back and smile at the value you are now placing on her good looks.

MOST DECIDEDLY SO DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: I am a young girl seventeen years old deeply in love with a young man of eighteen years, whom my parents forbid me going with on account of his religion. Do you think it would be proper for me to meet him on the quiet, as I know that he likes me? P. R.

As you value your security and happiness do as your parents wish. The most dose of love you can give him is to let him go. If he does, he would not seek to undermine your parents' authority.

Spring-Tired,

Spring-Sick, Spring-Weak, Spring-Miserable, is a prevalent condition at this season, caused by impure blood. Thousands are "off their feed," have poor appetite, bad digestion, dull headaches, heavy feet, tire easily, think slowly, and work poorly. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the ideal remedy. It purifies and vitalizes the blood, overcomes that tired feeling, sharpens the appetite, aids digestion, and makes life worth living. Buy a bottle and begin to take it today. Accept no substitute.
